Selected Reviews and Critiques

Performing Artist

“I have had the pleasure of working with Pina Magri several times during my career, and each time was a splendid occasion to appreciate her vocal qualities. Technically and musically of the first order... I believe she has all the qualities needed to make her mark in the musical world. .” - Academy Award-Winning Maestro Ennio Morricone, Italy's leading soundtrack composer for movies with Clint Eastwood, Sergio Leone

“...Pina Magri deserves special praise...an Italian-American of uncommon talent as operatic soprano, soft-rock and musical theatre performer. She completed her diploma in Voice at the Conservatory of Music ‘Santa Cecilia’ in Rome, Italy and pursued further studies in vocal technique in Salzburg and New York City, renowned centers in their respective branches of musical achievement.” - Enrico Giacobelli, La Gazzetta del Piemonte

“A remarkable vocalist who is equally at home singing Erroll Garner’s ‘Misty’, Mozart’s ‘Queen of the Night’ arias, the latest Disney ballad or hottest Broadway showstopper...” – The Springfield (MA) Republican, 9/24/2011

“Bewitched by the voice of Pina Magri...surely the most beautiful and applauded show to date in the concert schedule of Acrinscena...singer Pina Magri enchanted thousands of spectators with her splendid voice... -Il Quotidiano Acri, Luzzi.Bisignano, Montalto e Valle Crati 31 luglio 2003

“It is certainly a rare gift when a voice spans from Verdi to Gershwin, from Debussy to Negro Spirituals, from Puccini to Ella Fitzgerald. Pina Magri...has a great sense of interpretation and style. She is a soprano with an extensive vocal range...Her vocal flexibility allows her repertoire to range from pop to opera. In fact, her diploma in opera from the Conservatorio di 'Santa Cecilia' in Rome along with her portfolio of private studies and master classes with maestros of the caliber of Ettore Campogalliani enable her to perform Gershwin's 'Summertime' in the original operatic style, or 'Con te partiro' with impressive technique and breathtaking effect. Her Broadway studies make her interpretation of 'Don't Cry For Me Argentina' both moving and authentic.” -Emanuela Di Gironimo, IL QUIRINO Rome, Italy June 1, 2000

“I listened to your audio samples on your website. What a glorious voice you have!” -Mark Hayes arranger, pianist

Voice Teacher

“A dynamic, multifaceted performer, passionate communicator, and seasoned artist, Pina Magri brings a unique confluence of talent, dedication, and broad-based experience to the craft of voice-teaching. Equally at home in the vocal worlds of opera and Broadway...she understands and inhabits a vast range of vocal styles with natural ease, and establishes an electrifying, intimate connection with her listeners. In addition to her prismatic array of vocal skills, Ms. Magri is also a composer, thereby practicing her art as both creator and interpreter...a consummate musician of the highest order. - Clifton J. Noble, Jr., composer, arranger, pianist Smith College Northampton, MA

“I have always appreciated her special vocal qualities, the sweetness of her tone and the power of her vocal emission, coupled with her palette of highly sensitive artistic skills...great vocal and artistic gifts...deep musical knowledge and a long experience teaching voice. Her preparation in vocal technique coupled with her creativity distinguish her as a teacher.” - Enrico Fubini, Prof. Emerito di Storia della Musica, Università di Torino

Language Teacher

“Professor Magri...has a gift for creating an approachable atmosphere...consistently offered useful corrections and suggestions from grammar, to vocabulary, to pronunciation. Students were allowed to practice their speaking skills without fear of mistakes, as errors were treated as opportunities for learning without value judgment. In my experience with language classes, this openness is quite rare and I believe it does a great deal to encourage deeper confidence and facility with the language. I would highly recommend Professor Magri as an educator. Her passion, knowledge, and creativity translate to a truly enriching and unique course experience.” – Stephanie Weissman, Elementary Italian 1 and 2 student, Hunter College, Summer 2015

“I've had a tremendous experience learning Italian from Professor Magri. Her way of teaching is eye-opening: we have a diverse class with students of various levels and Pina has managed to keep every student focused and intrigued, perfect balance of learning without being overwhelmed. Pina's passion in teaching and her tremendous knowledge of Italian arts and culture makes this class vibrant and fun.” - Carmen Jiamin Ren, Italian student, New York University, 2015

Composer/Songwriter

"Your music is beautiful, quite evocative and spiritual. Your melodies are very singable and memorable. I definitely hear your musical theatre background in your writing."

"Your melody 'Briciole d'Amore / Wings of Love' is beautiful, Pina. I like how you move gracefully from one tonal center to the next and we hear the main melody in more than one key. You have a diverse harmonic vocabulary, which is not common in most songwriters. There is emotion built into this song and the form of it has inherent "drama" to it, which I think is one of the keys to a successful and moving song." -Mark Hayes, American composer, arranger, conductor, award-winning concert pianist

"Sunshine Of Your Love Smilax records comes with three mixes to choose from featuring powerful vocals by Julie Rush aka Pina Magri. This is very Italian sounding House ...All the mixes have a very strong vocal and are well crafted and put together. The first is the Miami Club version, starting with a funky set of keys and then the catchy vocal starts. The vocals are very nicely placed over the top of some almost 70's sounding samples and effects, a lot like a Sunburst Band type of production. ...All in all, a great package that has mixes that cater to all floors from the Soulful to the Main Room. House music is most definitely alive and kicking." -Antony Angell reviewer Defected Records

"Amazing, so calming and sweet, I love it! 'Nell' Anima', a musical re-elaboration of J.S. Bach's Air on the G string with original words you wrote in Italian which translated into English say this, 'If rivers are born from the snows/ and strength from sorrow grows/ and it seems that sense has faded into nothingness/ love can be given / great love/ perhaps incomprehensible/ though no less real.' In Italian it is just so beautiful, whether you know what it means or not, then to read the words in the English translation as well is staggering! - Interview on Channel 22 NBC Mass Appeal Springfield, Massachusetts
